

SUFFRAGE LEAGUES IN ALL PARTS OF STATE

Twenty-two New Branches Have Recently Been Formed by State Organization.

PLAN AGGRESSIVE CAMPAIGN

Y. W. C. A. Opens Home for Girls at Willoughby Beach—Juvenile Protective Association of Virginia Perfects Organization.

Any one who believes that the growth of the equal suffrage numbers is a menace to the State will have their rest considerably disturbed when they learn that twenty-two new leagues have been organized in Virginia since the opening of the annual campaign this year in April. Feeling that what they needed most of all was the spread of equal suffrage ideas through every county in Virginia, the State League began a particularly vigorous campaign early this spring, which will continue without intermission until the fall. After that work will probably be concentrated on the Legislature, before which a suffrage amendment to the State Constitution will come at the next session. The suffragists have next session, and very much encouraged at the cordial and eager reception that has been given them in even the remotest parts of Virginia, where the suffrage movement has never been made before. This summer they have suffered abuse and provoked laughter for so long that now they can hardly believe that people are actually running after them and eager to hear what they have to say. In their audience, a couple of months ago, actually accused them of espousing the "cause" because it was "stylish" so to do. If equal suffrage has been "stylish" to do, then nothing in "this world can stand in the way of it," for a very large per cent of the population is always bent upon becoming "stylish" at all costs.

MRS. VALENTINE HAS SPOKEN IN MANY SECTIONS

The State organization has been carried on by means of a series of speeches made by different members of the league in response to invitations that have come to them from every section and every kind of club and association. Mrs. B. Valentine, president of the State League, who has been traveling for that purpose almost continuously for the past three or four months, has been assisted by Mrs. John H. Lynchburg, who has been remembered as having made a delightful speech before the last regular Legislature; Mrs. W. C. A. at the county seat on court day, when several hundred people were gathered from all around.

RELIGIOUS GATHERINGS

On several other occasions the league sent speakers, in response to urgent invitations, to religious camps, religious, political gatherings, and so on. On July 25, for instance, Mrs. Valentine and Miss Welford went in response to an urgent invitation, to speak before the Piedmont assembly, a religious gathering somewhat in the nature of a camp meeting, just outside of Gordonsville. There were, of course, a number of clergymen present, and the speaker made her talk rather an ethical and social welfare nature, using as a text, the verse from Paul: "There is Neither Bond nor Free, Jew nor Greek, Male nor Female, but All are One in Christ Jesus." On July 24, Mrs. Valentine was invited to speak at a Presbyterian lawn party at the Hot Springs. When the time came she had caught a severe cold and was unable to speak, but her place was very willingly taken by Rev. Edward Ward, an Episcopal minister from Pittsburg, who made an able address on suffrage. The fact that an Episcopal minister was giving a suffrage talk before a gathering of Presbyterians at a lawn party, though considerable of a mixture, did not strike any one as incongruous, so interested were they in the subject.

NEW LEAGUES ARE BEING ORGANIZED

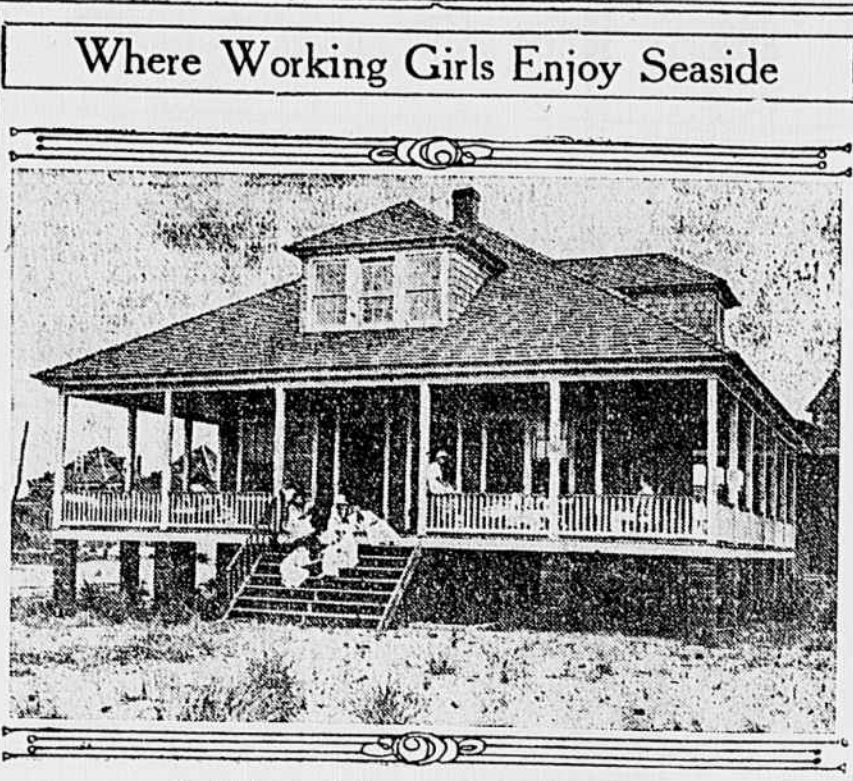

A number of other invitations have been received to speak in other places in Virginia between now and November. One of the most notable of these is one for the Bush Meeting of the Evangelical and Prohibition Alliance to be held this fall at Gordonsville, in Loudoun County. This meeting, which has been an annual affair for thirty years is always largely attended, and has generally been considered the stronghold of the conservative wing of the league that the alliance wished to become enlightened on the subject of equal suffrage, and wanted Mrs. Valentine to come to speak. Other recent invitations have come from Loudoun, Middleburg, The Plains, Warrenton, Winchester, Charlottesville, Augusta County Fair, Charlottesville, Fauquier County, Shenandoah County, and the Union picnic at Cartersville, the Chickeringburg County Fair, Spotsylvania Courthouse, Urbana, and several places in New Jersey. Mrs. John Lewis has organized a number of leagues, and will organize a number more. Very effective work has also been done by Miss Roberta Welford, who has kept up a suffrage booth in Campbell Hall at the University. All the summer, she is displaying suffrage maps and literature.

Y. W. C. A. OPENS SUMMER HOME FOR GIRLS AT BEACH

Young Woman's Christian Association members who prefer to spend their vacation at the beach, rather than inland, are offered a wonderful opportunity of going so at a very reasonable cost by the Young Women's Christian Association of Norfolk. This branch of the National Young Women's Christian Association has established a recreation club and rented a new cottage at Willoughby Beach. This is a very comfortable building, with porches on all sides, bath, shower, and showers, and accommodations for twelve girls. The cottage offers a wonderful opportunity for girls who have to take their vacation alone to find congenial surroundings.

JUVENILE PROTECTIVE SOCIETY OF VIRGINIA IS FORMED

At the last session of the State conference of charities and corrections it was decided to organize State-wide work under the Richmond chapter of the Y. W. C. A. Cottage at Willoughby Beach.

The Juvenile Protective Society, a society which has previously only operated locally, though possessing a State charter. This new move was due to the fact that, although there were many other splendid agencies at work for the protection of juveniles within the State, these were either only doing local work in their respective communities, or overlapping in doing the wider work and thereby increasing the economic burden on the societies.

The Richmond Juvenile Protective Society dates back to the year 1905, when a number of public-spirited men and women of Richmond, among whom were Joseph E. Willard, Milton Marcuse, Eugene C. Massie, John P. Baer, Joseph Bryan, Mrs. Henry E. Baer, Charles B. Cooke, John J. Crutcher, and Rev. Father Charles Hannigan were granted articles of incorporation and the society was formed with Joseph E. Willard as president.

The recent State-wide reorganization was effected by the adoption of by-laws and the election of officers. Such changes as were necessary were made to bring all the local organizations in the one organization and thereby better cover the field and protect the juveniles of the State.

SEARCH PARTIES OUT TO FIND WANDERERS

Storm Brings Some Discomfort and Anxiety, but Does No Real Damage.

PEDESTRIANS ARE DELAYED

But They Find Refuge in Farmhouse With Bounteous Country Dinner, and No One Is Sorry—Gay Times at Blue Ridge Springs.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

BLUE RIDGE SPRINGS, VA., August 7.—James Augustus, known as the queen of the summer months with smiles and sunshine, but before the first day of her reign was spent, old "Jupiter Pluvius" arrived, with a great electrical display, and drenching rain, much to the discomfort of the colony, and causing some alarm on account of pedestrian parties of young people, who had been thoroughly drenched, but had taken refuge in a farmhouse, where a bounteous country dinner was served, and no harm had befallen save the delay of return for many hours. In the meantime search parties went out to recover the wanderers who had been broken limbs on slippery mountain sides, or lost, like the "babes in the woods." It is strange that one of the "frailties of humanity" which after such excitement and anxiety there is a revelation of almost resentment that some of the forebodings had not been justified when the principals appear, safe and sound, surprised that any anxiety had been felt.

The Times-Dispatch gave the colony the next day distressing accounts of the storm king's visit to Richmond, and the repetition of his destructive work the next day, which brought forth much sympathy and regret for that city's property losses.

The rain here only served to put the tennis court out of commission temporarily, and to produce greater activity in auction bridge, dancing lessons and other indoor pastimes.

On Wednesday morning Miss Marian Daniel was hostess to a large bowling party, at which Mrs. Hubbard, of London, Eng., carried off first honors, and received the victor's reward, J. W. Trant, of Richmond, sustained the high record for the men. Light refreshments were served and a jolly morning was enjoyed.

Mrs. Robert J. Hancock, of Lynchburg, gave one of the most elaborate auction bridge parties on Friday morning, at which Mrs. Hancock, of Lynchburg, sustained the high record for the men. Light refreshments were served and a jolly morning was enjoyed.

SEVEN YEAR ITCH COVERED BODY

Broke Out In Small Pimples. Could Not Sleep. Would Itch and Burn All Night.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"I broke out with a rash which at first I thought was prickly heat, and tried to heal it with a home remedy, but it kept getting worse. It resembled chicken pox, broke out in small pimples. I scratched the pimples and gradually my whole body was covered over to my hair. Soon I was a mass of eruptions. I got so bad I could not sleep. It was itchy and burn all night. One day I read an advertisement of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and decided to try them. They immediately relieved the itching sensation, and in two months I was well." (Signed) Phillip Kuntz, Co. RALEIGH

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

RALEIGH, N. C., August 7.—Great numbers of the people prominent in the social life of Raleigh are out of the city scattered from the mountains to the seashore in this State, and great numbers of them in the mountains of New England, and on the Far West doing the Panama-Pacific Exposition and all the sights of the great West. But there are still a considerable group at home who are by no means spending a dull season. The tennis courts and golf links of the Raleigh Country Club are crowded every afternoon; the clubhouse and the grounds are thronged with young people gathered for dancing, and there form pleasant little parties of friends visiting in private homes as the days pass. Pleasant automobile rides with picnic lunches are also popular pastimes for the "stay-at-home." Some are by no means experiencing a dull summer by reason of having to remain at home.

New Suits for Fall

A Foreword

The early arrivals offer a wider choice than usual at this time. Whipcords, Poplins, Gabardines, Serges, Velours, Mannish Mixtures and Broadcloths are among the materials used. The color effects are somewhat subdued, running toward dark gray, dark green, African brown, etc., in addition to navy and black. Styles are varied. The semi-tailored effects are quite noticeable, and the early lines show cut lengths up to thirty-six inches.

There is a decided manliness touch to many of the Suits this fall, both as regards materials, and cut. Prices range between $10.75 and $60.50.

Our plain tailored Suits of Navy and Black Government Serge, at $20.75, are the best all-round serviceable garments of which we know. These Suits may be used on all occasions—for church, for traveling, for business—anywhere or any place requiring a handsomely-tailored, perfect fitting Suit.
